
Discretization of complex analysis

Sergei P. Novikov

Steklov Mathematical Institute, Moscow, Russia

e-mail: `snovikov@mi.ras.ru`

A new approach to the discretization of complex analysis has been developed in a series of papers by the author and I. A. Dynnikov during several years. Triangular lattices appear to possess several remarkable properties that are not satisfied for a usual quadrilateral lattice. We have also developed a new method for the discretization of differential geometric connections on simplicial polyhedra.